Videotape:

Videotaping each room of your house can make taking inventories easier. Photographs and a tape recorder can substitute for a video camera. A complete video inventory should contain verbal descriptions of major assets as well as their value. Remember your garage, attic, basement and the exterior of the house, plus your garden and fencing. If possible, make it a family project by having everyone take turns describing the objects in your home.

Store the video or photographs along with this inventory in a safe-deposit box and send a copy to a friend or relative.

Important Documents:

Don't forget important documents should be photocopied. Keep one copy in your home and the original, where possible, in a safe-deposit box. Important items include, but are not limited to:

- House: Escrow, title, deed, insurance policy
- Personal: Birth certificates, medical history, passports, insurance certificates, credit card numbers, will
- Automobile: Certificates of ownership, finance contracts, registrations, insurance policies and drivers licenses
- Finance: Account numbers for checking and savings accounts, CDs, stocks, bonds, other significant investments
- Tax: Copies of the first two pages of your state and federal returns for the past five years. Complete returns should be kept in a separate file box.

Special Note:

Most policies limit the amount of coverage for theft of valuable items, such as furs, jewelry, stamps, guns, coins, silverware, etc. If you have some particularly valuable items in these categories, you may need to purchase additional coverage called a 'floater'. These types of policies cover each item individually and are usually inexpensive.
